

VACANCY - Trainee Editors, Frontline Gastroenterology

Frontline Gastroenterology is pleased to invite applications for the post of Trainee Editor of the Editorial Board.

Frontline Gastroenterology publishes articles that accelerate adoption of innovative and best practice in the fields of gastroenterology, hepatology and clinical nutrition. Frontline Gastroenterology is especially interested in articles on multidisciplinary research and care, focusing on both retrospective assessments of novel models of care as well as putative future directions of best practice.

Frontline Gastroenterology is an official publication of the British Society of Gastroenterology and is a companion journal to Gut and BMJ Open Gastroenterology.

The Trainee Editor position is a 2-year appointment with a specific remit in three areas:

- Assisting with the development of educational content
- Optimising the social media presence of the journal
- Representing opinions of the trainee body

The only requirement is that you are currently in a training post, irrespective of stage.

The Trainee Editor will report directly to the journal's Editor-in-Chief, Dr Philip Smith, and will be expected to attend the journal's editorial meetings.

To apply, please send a CV in addition to a covering letter, outlining a) your reasons for your interest in the post and b) any ideas and innovations you will bring to the role, to: Aditi Kumar (aditikumar@nhs.net) & Oliver Tavabie (oliver.tavabie@nhs.net), Deputy Editors.

Deadline for applications: Friday 13 December 2024